Broadband in Latest Infrastructure Package

By Betsy Huber, National Grange President

Last week we wrote a letter to sixteen members of Congress who are working on the bipartisan infrastructure package where $65 billion in additional broadband funding is being proposed. That is a lot of money! Many broadband providers with a plethora of broadband technologies will be competing for a piece of that broadband pie. In the letter, we reiterated the points the National Grange has championed for the past two years in its efforts to reach the last mile and last acre of rural America with high speed broadband. These are:

- The highest priority for these funds should be to connect the truly unserved areas first, such as farms, ranches, their households and their neighbors who have historically been unconnected.
- The minimum speed must be at least 25 Mbps download and 3 Mbps upload speeds, but higher speeds are preferred where available.
- A mix of technologies and broadband providers must be considered eligible for these funds if we are to reach the last mile and last acre of rural America while funding is available.
- It will be absolutely necessary to secure access to rights-of-way and pole attachments for broadband providers. This will involve negotiations with federal, state and local agencies as well as private entities such as rural electric cooperatives. Some kind of mediation process may need to be established to achieve this crucial access.

With the money that has been allocated for expansion of broadband in the last year or two, we are very hopeful that our rural residents will soon be able to connect as well as those in urban areas now can.

Hope and Persevere

By Pete Pompper, National Grange Community Service Director

“Are all their hopes, then blasted? Is there no way in which they can gain your favor? There is ---one way. What is it? Hope and Persevere. In what respect? All through life! Let it be a lesson, never to be forgotten, that success in a good cause is gained only by perseverance. Never be discouraged. Hope and Persevere”.

I find this discussion between the Assistant Steward and the Spector to be relevant today as Granges get back to doing what we do. So many of you have shown such perseverance during the past year and a half. Granges and Grangers have not given up but you found ways to continue helping your communities.

As I have said many times no Granges gave up but through hope and perseverance you moved on and came up with different and unique ways to give back. In return Granges have seen the community give back to them.

Fund raising dinners are selling out, vendor fairs are busier than ever and attendance at events have exceeded expectations. It doesn't matter the size of the Grange either, large to small Granges are all doing great things.

In fact there are a couple of Granges who were not doing well and were close to closing but the membership went outside of the comfort zone and held new community programs. These new ideas have revitalized the Grange and have not only increased membership but reintroduced themselves in a positive way to the community. These Granges are now partnering with other community groups which is leading to more people being involved.

Now is the time for Granges to get back to doing what we do best, either giving back to our communities, or teaching our younger members leadership skills.

These skills will be invaluable in the future as they grow. A way of teaching these skills is getting them involved in your community service projects. Let them plan, organize and run a project; we need to support them in their ideas.

Speaking of this, 2 years ago we (NG Youth and Community Service) started the Wib and June Justi Youth Community Service award. This is an opportunity for a Grange or Granger to nominate a Youth member who is doing outstanding community service work. The nomination form is on the NG website in the Youth Department section. If you have any questions feel free to contact me or Mandy Bostwick.

Hope On Persevere Ever.

BMS Project is Live and in your Mailboxes

By Claire Loker, National Grange Intern

This week at the National Grange we are in full packaging mode getting all the BMS packets put together to be mailed out this week to all state and local Granges. Be on the lookout for these packets in your mailboxes in the next couple of weeks. The BMS (Bristol Myers Squibb) What To Do With a Cancer Diagnosis project is now available on the National Grange and Retire Safe websites. This Project includes a six-part presentation giving you next step advice if you or a loved one are to ever get news that you have cancer. Information includes different treatment options, how to prepare medical documents, self-advocating, and a medical checklist. Hearing that you have cancer can come as a shock and you may not know where to begin in finding the right medical treatment or how to prepare if things take a sudden toll.

Granges will be receiving a packet containing a paper copy of a press release to announce to the community about this presentation, a letter explaining what the project is and a USB drive containing all documents in the packet and the six-part presentation. This project is not only for Grange members but also for communities. In the United States 40% of Americans will receive a cancer diagnosis in their lifetime so the chances of you knowing someone who will be diagnosed are high and this presentation can help you help them.

On the bottom of the letter that is included in the package is a BMS number. In a few weeks, we will be drawing numbers and if your Grange's number is drawn you will win a prize! Stay on the lookout on Facebook and in the Patrons Chain for the winner announcement and give us a call if your Grange is the lucky winner. Packages are on the way so be on the lookout for yours in the mail.
